Biographical Note:

Samuel Thompson, the first Associate Vice Chancellor for Community Relations, Planning, and Development at the University of Massachusetts Medical School, was born November 12, 1931. He served as a First Lieutenant in the United States Army from 1953 to 1955 and was honorably discharged. He and his wife, Jean Deane, had two children; Carletta and Gregory. Thompson graduated from Virginia State College in 1953 and earned a Master of Social Services degree from the Graduate School of Public Administration and Social Services at New York University in 1959. In 1966 he earned a Ph.D. in City and Regional Planning from Harvard University.

Thompson was a Technical Records Clerk at the American Broadcasting Company in New York City, New York from 1955 to 1957, a Group Worker at Youth House for Boys in Bronx, New York from 1957 to 1959, and the Housing and Industrial Relations Director of the Urban League of Westchester County, White Plains, New York from September 1959 to August 1961. From 1962 to 1968 Thompson was Project Director of the Boston Redevelopment Authority and was Deputy Administrator of the Boston Model City Administration from 1968 to 1973. He was Administrator of the Boston Housing Authority from 1973 until he joined the University of Massachusetts Medical School in 1977 as Associate Vice Chancellor for Community Relations, Planning, and Development. In this role Thompson was responsible for fostering relationships between the University, city and county officials, and community groups. He also held a leadership role in development matters of the school by establishing and working with foundations, businesses, and individuals. Additionally, Thompson was responsible for implementing the school's long-range plans for education and health care programs.

Thompson also held a faculty appointment in the Department of Family and Community Medicine and was Associate Dean for Administration and Finance, Associate Provost, and Registrar. In these roles, Thompson was responsible for internal financial matters, oversaw building renovations, and helped to develop the Learning Contract under which medical students can defer a portion of their tuition in exchange for service in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. He retired from the University of Massachusetts Medical School in 1992.

Thompson was a member of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., Beta Gamma Lambda Chapter and the U. S. Chess Federation. He died July 30, 2012.
