Systems Process

Dissertation → Pulled from shelf → Scanned → Retrieve e-copy file → Assemble e-copy file

→ Quality control on e-copy file → Save e-copy file

Quality control on e-copy file → Print abstract → OCR abstract → In Notepad add HTML tags to abstract → Quality control → Save abstract file as text file → Put paper copy of Abstract in cataloging "In Box" → A

Quality control on e-copy file → Save as searchable PDF → Build ToC → Save as PDF
Anatomy of a Digitization Project: Dissecting the Process
By Mary Piorun & Lisa Palmer

Scanning Forum 2006
Charlottesville, VA
November 6, 2006

Handout available at: http://escholarship.umassmed.edu/lib_postpres/23/

A

Cataloging Process

Retrieve paper abstract

↓

Open PDF for Data/dept. info

↓

Open abstract file

↓

Search OPAC for record

↓

Open eScholarship

↓

Enter new record

↓

Copy/paste from OPAC

Permissions?

No → Add note: "Waiting for permission" → Submit in eScholarship → File clean up/ moves → Update access database → Permission granted?

Permission granted? No → Held until permission granted

Permission granted? Yes → Add scan notes → Add PDF → Add full text link to OPAC → File clean up

Permissions? Yes → Add scan notes → Add PDF → Submit in eScholarship → Add full text link to OPAC → File clean up/ moves → Update access database