Digital Commons

- Content Carrousels and Slideshows: Rotating images now link to the image’s record so visitors can view the full details, pan/zoom, and browse related images. Learn more about Content Carrousels and slideshows.
- Image galleries: we are speeding up pan/zoom! Thanks for your patience, and you should see improvements over the next few weeks. Learn more about image galleries.
- Large files: we are also making improvements to help increase the speed when uploading large files.
- “Update site” links: the next time you update, you’ll see the name of the link reflects the current level of your repository! No more questions over whether you are updating an article, a series, or a journal.
- Google Scholar: per Google Scholar’s request, we have adjusted the meta tags to improve the quality of indexing.

Expert Gallery Suite

- 3/2/1-Contact: to make it even easier for visitors to contact authors, we have added the “contact” button to top of each work’s page. Learn how to make the most of contact buttons on your profiles.
- Notification Center: the center loads more quickly for administrators with many notifications. Max notifications is 100.
- “SelectedWorks of None” no more! We resolved an error mysteriously impacting several profiles so that they now display the profile’s name, not “none,” in the header.
- Additional improvements: administrators should see more even performance of the Download and Link buttons. The Download button should only appear on works with full texts, and the link button should open in a new window.
