2018-09-20

Threads of Places I've Been

Michael Mogel
University of Massachusetts Medical Center

Follow this and additional works at: https://escholarship.umassmed.edu/soc

Part of the Medical Humanities Commons, and the Poetry Commons

Copyright The Author(s).

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial-No Derivative Works 4.0 License.

Recommended Citation Available at: https://escholarship.umassmed.edu/soc/vol2/iss1/1.

This material is brought to you by eScholarship@UMMS. It has been accepted for inclusion in Streams of Consciousness by an authorized administrator of eScholarship@UMMS. For more information, please contact Lisa.Palmer@umassmed.edu.
Threads of Places I’ve Been

Michael Mogel

1
Flip through an old songbook skipping over the pretty pressed flowers trapped between the pages from someone, sometime ago

2
My eyes view a scene revealing no depth like a mountain obstructed by clouds

3
The way I sing a simple song that has a melody with a pleasant chorus makes me smile

4
Heifetz is my favorite violinist I’ve heard him play Tchaikovsky violin concerto on You Tube

5
A children’s story meant for adults has layers and layers of rocks to turn over

6
In my 66th year I can know that my motorcycle journey down Route 66 can be crossed off my bucket list except that I’d like to do it again

7
Life is not defined by a time span but how much infinite experience
There is in a finite period

8
When I drool at night I blame it on the Parkinsons when I drool during the day I blame it on the Parkinsons when I drool in conversation I wipe my mouth
In my attic is an office where I keep all my $10 gaming coins from the Silver Strike slot machines at the Four Queens Casino on Fremont Street in Las Vegas.

Now I feel like a lion in a cage at the zoo where small children gawk and play nearby loss of strength and agility like something missing in translation