Biographical Note:

John F. Stockwell, the first director of University Hospital, Associate Dean for Administrative Affairs, and Associate Professor of Hospital Administration at the University of Massachusetts Medical School, was born in Watertown, New York on February 17, 1926. He served in the Army Air Force and was honorably discharged. Stockwell and his wife Nancy W. had six children; Sandra, Amy, Bruce, Susan, Richard, and Julie.

He graduated from Dartmouth College in 1949 and earned a Master's degree in Hospital

Administration from the University of Minnesota in 1953. Stockwell was Assistant to the Director and Administrative Resident at Rhode Island Hospital from 1952 to 1959, Executive Director of Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City, Missouri from 1959 to 1964, and Executive Vice President at Children's Hospital of Minneapolis, Inc. from 1964 to 1967. Stockwell was recruited in 1966 by Lamar Soutter, M.D., founding Dean of UMMS and began work in Worcester in February 1967. Stockwell played a major role in the planning and construction of the medical school and affiliated teaching hospital and was involved in budget issues relating to each entity. He worked closely with Dean Soutter and was the driving force behind organizing the 1996 Commonwealth of Massachusetts Proclamation honoring Dr. Soutter. Stockwell paid close attention to milestones in the history of the institution. He wrote about the hospital's twenty-fifth anniversary in 2001 and undertook research about the history of the University of Massachusetts Medical Center (UMMC). In 1977, one year after the opening of University Hospital, he left UMMC to become Chief Executive Officer of Cape Cod Hospital in Hyannis.
