Introduction:
e-Mental Health in Central Massachusetts is a project of the Lamar Soutter Library, in collaboration with the UMass Medical School/UMass Memorial Medical Center Department of Psychiatry, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Department of Mental Health, and 10 local mental health agencies.

Objective:
To improve access to evidence-based mental health information and local resources for mental health professionals and consumers through information services delivered and enhanced through the Internet.

Methods and Results:
Improved relationship between library and local mental health agencies was achieved via site visits to local agencies, introducing the project and the concept of e-mental health to the practitioners and health care providers.

Improved access to quality-filtered mental health information for patients and providers through creation of a Web site with content determined from the discussions with the principle agencies.

Improved searching skills for users of the site by providing web-based tutorials and classroom sessions.

Increased usage of library resources by partner agencies through continuous training, free document delivery services, and easy access to professional reference librarians.
